

Mummies and Medicine: Investigating Health in Ancient Egypt

A Study Day presented by the KNH Centre for Biomedical Egyptology, University of Manchester, on Saturday 11th February 2012 in the Stopford Building, Oxford Road, Manchester.

All tickets cost £30. Tea and coffee are provided at the breaks: lunch is not provided.

Email any queries to: joyce.tyldesley@manchester.ac.uk

PROVISIONAL PROGRAMME

- | | |
|-------|--|
| 9.30 | Registration |
| 9.45 | Introduction |
| 9.55 | Dr Joyce Tyldesley:
Protecting and Healing Tutankhamen: Magic within the Tomb |
| 10.40 | - Break- |
| 11.05 | Roger Forshaw:
Cosmetics, Insecticides and Cures for the Common Cold: The Medical papyri |
| 11.50 | Professor Judith Adams:
The Role of Imaging in the Identification of Disease in Ancient Egypt |
| 12.35 | - Lunch (not provided) - |
| 1.35 | Professor Rosalie David:

Film, including intro and questions |
| 2.35 | - Break- |
| 3.00 | The 2012 Bob Partridge Memorial Lecture
Joyce Filer :
A Cure For All Ills? - Ancient Egyptian Royalty and their Experience of Health Problems |
| 4.15 | Conclusion and general questions |
| 4.30 | Depart |